

The fall of dropping water wears away the Stone. – Lucretius

This piece was created by Art Education Students and Faculty in Spring 2021 in conjunction with the campus theme of water. The rocks are formed from felted wool using both wet and dry felting processes.

Makers:

Dr. Cheryl Stone
Dr. Erin Tapley
Samantha Blanchard
Melissa Baxter
Jenna Cary

Mel Indigo Cervantes
Alissa Emery
Devin Jessie
Kirsten Kaufman
Jamie Lyda
Emelia Woodson

Sound Engineers:

Kevin Kirkpatrick
John Seefeldt

Special Thanks:

Dean Brown for funding sound and displaying this artwork.
Undergraduate Studies Intentional Learning Grant for buying our wool!