

(Roy Kaplan, Meredith Oakley, Jen Philips, and Carolyn Callaghan) for providing the registration system and helping with event promotion and activities coordination.

Our Financial Sponsors:

~~North Carolina State Parks~~

Dogwood Trust

Dr. Kofi Lomotey and his Distinguished Professor Endowment Funds

WCJ's College of Education and Allied Professions

The Jackson County NAACP Branch #54 who provided up to $250 for ten teachers teaching in Western North Carolina to attend the Equity in Education Summit

Multiple district leaders and foundations who supported registration fees and substitute teacher costs of many of their educators so that they could attend the summit.

Dr. Kofi Lomotey and Dr. Yancey Gulley for your assistance with the keynote speakers.

~~WCU's Center for the Study of the African Diaspora~~ May we

~~convene to learn~~

Our K-12 student presenters, performers, and their chaperones - We are honored to include your voices in this learning space.

~~WCU's Center for the Study of the African Diaspora~~

~~WCU Student Volunteers~~

The Renaissance Hotel

All Our EQUUS Presenters and Service Providers! Thank you for helping build our collective capacity toward equitable and joyous schools!